CME Certification Provided by the Center for Continuing Education Tulane University Health Sciences Center

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES:

At the conclusion of this activity, the participants should be better able to:

- Identify which new discoveries are appropriate for the particular patient populations.
- Critically evaluate the basic discoveries and the translational process.
- Determine which strategies are appropriate for incorporation into practice.
- Evaluate the current research from young investigators in the subspecialty areas.
- Discuss the future development possible from current research trends and mentoring with colleagues and students.
- Apply the new discoveries into the clinical and quality guidelines for each patient population.
- Implement new strategies into clinical practice.
- Engage in the mentoring process for young investigators.

ACCREDITATION: This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essentials and Standards of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of Tulane University Health Sciences Center and the Southern Regional Societies. Tulane University Health Sciences Center is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Tulane University Health Sciences Center designates this educational activity for a maximum of 21.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits[™]. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Tulane University Health Sciences Center presents this activity for educational purposes only and does not endorse any product, content of presentation or exhibit. Participants are expected to use their own expertise and judgment while engaged in the practice of medicine. The content of the presentations is provided solely by presenters, who have been selected because of their recognized expertise.

PROCEDURE FOR CLAIMING AMA PRA CATEGORY 1 CREDIT™: To receive the appropriate number of AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™, it is important to do the following:

- Upon arrival, pick up your verification form at the Registration Desk.
- On your departure, turn in your completed verification form at the Registration Desk.

A listing of the number of AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ available each day is noted on the verification form. Program hours that run simultaneously or overlap are not included in the total credits available each day.

TULANE DISCLOSURE POLICY

It is the policy of the Center for Continuing Education at Tulane University Health Sciences Center to plan and implement all of its educational activities in accordance with the ACCME's Essential Areas and Policies to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor. In accordance with the ACCME's Standards for Commercial Support, everyone who is in a position to control the content of an educational activity certified for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ is required to disclose all relevant financial relationships with any commercial interests within the past 12 months that creates a real or apparent conflict of interest. Individuals who do not disclose are disqualified from participating in a CME activity. Individuals with potential for influence or control of CME content include planners and planning committee members, authors, teachers, educational activity directors, educational partners, and others who participate, e.g. facilitators and moderators. This disclosure pertains to relationships with pharmaceutical companies, biomedical device manufacturers or other corporations whose products or services are related to the subject matter of the presentation topic. Any real or apparent conflicts of interest related to the content of the presentations must be resolved prior to the educational activity. Disclosure of off-label, experimental or investigational use of drugs or devices must also be made known to the audience.

MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION AND PEER-REVIEWED PUBLICATION

Workshop Leader: Thomas R. Welch, Associate Editor, Journal of Pediatrics, SUNY Upstate Medical University

This workshop will address multiple aspects of publication in scientific journals. Presenter will discuss preparation of materials, including the initial decision that the data are sufficient to justify publication. Issues related to manuscript writing will include length, focus, adherence to journal formats, and referencing. The editorial process from submission to publication will be described in-depth with particular attention to ways in which authors can interact with journal editors. Another section will cover ethical issues in publication including review boards, authorship, duplicate publication, intellectual property rights, and conflict of interest. There will be open discussion of sample cases and questions derived from the experiences of the participants.

1:00 PM – 5:00 PM
Vieux Carre A – First Floor

NEONATAL QUALITY IMPROVEMENT, TRANSLATING EFFORT INTO OUTCOMES

Workshop Leader: Robert Ursprung, Pediatrics University

Objectives: 1) Learn Concepts methods and analytical tools applicable to quality improvement in the healthcare setting; and 2) QI workshop using “real life” problems from NICU’s.

1:00 PM – 5:00 PM

SSGIM PRE-COURSE

YOU CAN DO IT AND TEACH IT: PRACTICAL TIPS FOR CODING AND DOCUMENTATION

Workshop Leader: Yvette Cua, Emory University School of Medicine

This highly interactive pre-course is designed for faculty, residents, and students to review the documentation building blocks of E/M guidelines, applicable to all specialties, through the most common case scenarios encountered today. Participants will get hands on practice using the guidelines, specifically pointing out common areas of uncaptured or lost revenue, and are highly encouraged to bring samples of their own documentation for review and feedback. In addition, faculty will discuss personal experiences with implementing documentation and coding education at their facilities, highlight pitfalls, successes, and most importantly leave participants with the basic tools needed to successfully implement these programs at their respective institutions.

1:00 PM – 5:00 PM
Pelican II – Third Floor

BEHIND THE SCENES OF THE NIH GRANT REVIEW PROCESS: HOW TO OPTIMIZE YOUR APPLICATION'S CHANCES FOR FUNDING

Workshop Leaders:

Tonette Krousel-Wood, Ochsner Clinic Foundation

Michal Jazwinski, Tulane University

Gailen Marshall, University of Mississippi

Kathy Salaita, National Institutes of Health Center for Scientific Review

This interactive workshop will include presentations by a panel of experts actively engaged in the NIH grant review process. At the conclusion of this workshop, participants will be able to identify key changes in the NIH grant submission and review processes, specify important approaches to successful grant writing, and understand the different roles of the primary contacts at the NIH.

THE ACADEMIC BREAKFAST CLUB – PEER MENTORSHIP AS A MODEL FOR FACULTY DEVELOPMENT

Workshop Leader: Jennifer Takagishi, University of South Florida

Objectives:

Describe how peer mentorship differs from traditional mentoring relationships
Analyze the functions of peer mentoring relationships at different career stages
Develop a peer mentorship model for your institution

Mentorship is a key element for the career advancement of academic pediatricians. However, the traditional dyad of a senior and junior faculty pairing may be insufficient for several reasons, including the need for more than one mentor by most, and varying expectations and goals for the relationship. In addition, one-on-one relationships may be quite time-consuming, short-lasting, and may not fulfill some mentee needs such as work-life balance guidance. In addition, traditional dyad mentoring relationships are potentially problematic because of the inherent power differential existing between senior faculty mentors and mentees. Peer mentorship is another model that has been described in the literature as a means to provide mentoring opportunities, particularly for junior faculty. These relationships usually occur between faculty in similar career stages learning together and sharing collective experiences. The value of peer mentoring may be of increasing significance in the career development of pediatric faculty as means of fulfilling the needs noted above. Through a series of video clips, we will explore the differences between traditional mentorship, peer mentorship and friendship relationships. Via a brief literature review followed by interactive breakout sessions, we will also discuss innovative ways to develop peer mentoring opportunities and explore how these relationships may prove cost- and time-effective in an era of shrinking faculty development dollars. Participants will be invited to share their experiences with peer mentoring and workshop leaders will highlight other successful examples. Finally, we will consider how peer mentorship may evolve throughout one's career, as needs for learning new skills, work-life balance and promotion mature.

YOU CAN DO IT AND TEACH IT: PRACTICAL TIPS FOR CODING AND DOCUMENTATION

Workshop Leader: Yvette Cua, Emory University School of Medicine

This highly interactive pre-course is designed for faculty, residents, and students to review the documentation building blocks of E/M guidelines, applicable to all specialties, through the most common case scenarios encountered today. Participants will get hands on practice using the guidelines, specifically pointing out common areas of uncaptured or lost revenue, and are highly encouraged to bring samples of their own documentation for review and feedback. In addition, faculty will discuss personal experiences with implementing documentation and coding education at their facilities, highlight pitfalls, successes, and most importantly leave participants with the basic tools needed to successfully implement these programs at their respective institutions.
